

SPG-Johrat Chapter Organises Lecture Series

Society of Petroleum Geophysicists, Jorhat Chapter, conducted a lecture series at LUIT Bhawan conference hall, ONGC, Jorhat on 21st March, 2017.

Session started with brief introduction about the objective of the program by President SPG India, Jorhat chapter Shri S.K. Sharma, GM (GP). In his brief address he told that this program is an initiative for Knowledge Sharing. He welcomed Shri M. Ayyadurai, ED-Basin Manager, Patron SPG Jorhat Chapter and Shri G.V. Reddy, GM (GP). He informed the house about the previous programs conducted by SPG. He also urged the youngsters to come up with new ideas.

Shri M. Ayyadurai, in his welcome address advised the SPGians to have multidisciplinary exposure of acquisition, processing and interpretation with a constructive motto.

The first lecture delivered by Shri A.K. Chakraborty, SG on “Recent discoveries of SAS Block and their exploratory significance”. He explained recent exploration activity in South Assam Self and highlighted the discovery of Dayalpur field, having production potential from several sands.

It was followed by another enlightening lecture by a young geophysicist, Shri Mahavir Singh, on “Swath line Geometry:

an Innovative Approach”. During his talk he explained about innovative geometries adopted during seismic data acquisition in Fold Belt areas of A&AA Basin. He also shown the results and benefit of new swath line geometry, which was appreciated by the house.

The last lecture was delivered by Shri Chakradhar Rao Basa, Sr. Geophy (S) on “Advances in Seismic Imaging of Fold Belt after Reprocessing”. He explained the house about the improved imaging of Fold Belt. He also highlighted the efforts of processing center for bringing out the desirable results after the reprocessing.

Shri G.V. Reddy, GM (GP) in his feedback cherished the efforts of the geoscientists of A&AA Basin.

In the feedback session it was perceived that the knowledge imparted through deliberations and presentations in all the three sessions was of great importance. The participants were keen and interactive throughout the program.

At the end, the meeting was concluded with a vote of thanks by Shri M.H. Sastry, GM (GP), Vice-President of SPG Jorhat Chapter.
