Dear members of Society of Petroleum Geophysicists,

Journey of SPG since its birth till now has been amazing by virtue of the hard work and sincere efforts put by each one of you. With respect to dissemination of knowledge and bringing geoscientists community together through various activities, SPG has been able to create a “niche” position for itself in the country. Through various conferences, workshops, lectures and as an interface between the industry and academia, SPG has been playing unique role in the past. I sincerely acknowledge the efforts put in by the previous presidents and the office bearers of the society for achieving several milestones during the journey of SPG so far. SPG has been evolving over the time redefining its role and adapting to the ever changing priorities. Time has come to further reorient SPG's role to accelerate innovation, to inspire the young geoscientists and to develop systems for sustainable growth.

Society has been serving the members through publication of “Geohorizons”. Regular lecture series by regional chapters in addition to DL and DISC courses will continue to focus on latest developments in the industry.

SPG website is being made more lively and the team is already on the job. Columns like Reader Speak and Down the Memory lane are for the geoscientists who have many ideas which may not be in the form of a paper to be published. Those notes/paras will be published after scrutiny by experts in this column of the site. I request all of you to contribute to this column regularly to make our efforts fruitful.

A call for papers for January 2015 issue of “Geohorizons” got excellent response and we wish the same enthusiasm will continue. I will ensure that my team works out a strategy which helps in getting the same response from the esteemed members.

Once again I would like to request all fellow geoscientists to share your contribution to the developing world of geoscience through your own Society of Petroleum Geophysicists.

With heartiest greetings for New Year to each one of you and your family.
